Join Scuba Culture and experience the Pacific's most accessible wreck, The SS President Coolidge. This 22,200 tonne luxury passenger liner was commandeered as a WW2 troop ship, as a carrier vessel only; never meant to see combat. She hit a mine in 1942 and the Captain steered her onto the reef in Santo; the troops, thinking they would return to salvage left everything in place as they evacuated. However she slid gracefully off the reef landing on her port side stern with all items on board. All divers from the novice to experienced technical divers are catered for with over 20 unique dives on this wreck from the bow at 20m, right down to the stern 60+ m.
